

Objective

The student will identify the author's purpose.

Materials

- ▶ Header cards (Activity Master C.030.AM1)
- ▶ Passage cards (Activity Master C.030.AM2a - C.030.AM2c)

If text in this activity is not appropriate for your students, use text that is more applicable.

Note: The numbers of the cards correspond to headers in the following manner:

Persuade - 1, 8, 11, 16; Inform - 3, 5, 9, 14; Entertain - 2, 4, 6, 13; Explain - 7, 10, 12, 15.

Activity

Students determine author's purpose by sorting passages.

1. Place header cards face up in a row. Place passage cards face down in a stack.
2. Taking turns, students select the top card from the stack and read it aloud.
3. Determine the author's purpose.
4. Place under appropriate header card.
5. Continue until all cards are sorted.
6. Peer evaluation

The diagram illustrates a sorting activity. At the top, four header cards are arranged horizontally: "Persuade", "Inform", "Entertain", and "Explain". Below these headers are three passage cards. The first card, labeled "8", is placed under the "Inform" header. The second card, labeled "6", is placed under the "Entertain" header. The third card, labeled "10", is placed on top of a stack of cards, with a blue arrow pointing from the stack towards the "Explain" header.

Extensions and Adaptations

- ▶ Read passages and write author's purpose (Activity Master C.030.SS).
- ▶ Write other passage cards to sort (C.008.AM3).
- ▶ Bring in examples of magazine, newspaper, and other articles to discuss and identify the author's purpose (i.e., persuade, inform, entertain, or explain).

If someone says, "Don't look a gift horse in the mouth," that person doesn't really think you will receive a horse or try to open its mouth and look inside. In order to understand what this idiom means it's necessary to know two things. First, a long time ago, people were sometimes given a horse as a gift. Second, it is possible to tell how old a horse is by counting its teeth. If a person was given a horse and then counted its teeth it was considered impolite. This evolved into the current idiom which means when you receive something don't be ungrateful.

The water cycle has no real beginning or end. Water in oceans, lakes, and plants changes into water vapor and seems to vanish from the earth. This is called evaporation. The water vapor cools into tiny droplets which then form clouds. This is called condensation. When the clouds become heavy with these droplets, they fall back to the earth as rain, snow, or sleet. Precipitation is the name for this part of the cycle, which then continues.

Fishing can be fun. The first thing you need to do is bait the hook. Different types of bait are used depending on what you want to catch. Then you either cast the line or drop it into the water. The third step, which can be the most difficult, is to wait until you feel a tug on the line. Then you try to reel or pull in the line. If you do this all successfully your reward will be waiting on the end of the line.

Summer is the best season of the year. You can spend all your time outdoors and not get cold. You can swim and enjoy many sports that you can't when it is winter. There are leaves on the trees and flowers are in bloom. You can leave all the windows open in your house. Summer is so pleasant; too bad it doesn't last all year.
